

Life Harmony Foundation:

was established in Hungary in July 2003 with the objective of providing an opportunity for individual and community development by organizing services and programs.

Our objective is through supporting the person's inner harmony to increase the importance of every day attention to our live and social environment and of being outgoing. Therefore we can contribute to the realization of a harmonious relationship between the environment and humanity, establish attitudes of respect towards nature and being protective of the environment.

Through our programs we wish to develop an inner urge in young people to respect Life. The harmonious relationship would help the development of happiness, acceptance of life and individual life courses.

Through our interdisciplinary research programs in the areas of environmental psychology and human ecology by integrating social studies and natural sciences, we study more efficient ways to improve the relationship between nature and humanity.

By our complex objectives we participate in the implementation of an international priority, the development of environmental consciousness.
